Course Objectives

This course aims to further your knowledge of Mandarin Chinese, including basic characters, with practice in reading, writing, as well as some listening and speaking.

Grading

Grades will be determined based on the following criteria:

Attendance and Participation	10%
Homework and Quizzes	10%
Hourly Exams (3)	35%
Cultural Project	10%
Final Exam	35%

Participation grades will be based on regularity of presence in class, preparedness, willingness to take part in activities, and positive attitude.

Mutual Expectations

Learning another language is a demanding, but rewarding process. It requires a different type and level of investment on your part, both inside and outside the classroom. Expect that you will be asked to be actively involved in class activities. Expect also to put in a significant amount of time in preparation on a regular basis, familiarizing yourself with the material and doing assigned homework. An average of two hours of work at home per one hour of class is considered normal.

This class will be held in accordance with ASU's commitment to academic honesty and high standards of conduct. The policies and procedures of the Student Handbook are expected to apply throughout the course. It is the intent of the instructor to establish and maintain a positive learning environment based upon communication and mutual respect. Any suggestions with regard to furthering such an environment are welcome and will be given serious consideration.

College of Humanities and Social Sciences Statement on Disabilities

"Students who require academic adjustments in the classroom due to a disability must first register with ASU Disability Services. Following registration and within the first two weeks of class, please contact the instructor to discuss appropriate academic accommodations. Appropriate arrangements can be made to ensure equal access to this course."
